

Rosie Jones is a comedian and actress with a disability.

She has worked with Channel 4 to make a documentary about disability.

Channel 4 and Rosie hope that the documentary will let people know about the abuse that people with a disability get.

The documentary has a name which upsets a lot of people: Am I a R*d?

People have told us that they are angry and upset by the name of this documentary.

And Mencap are too.

We hope the documentary shows the abuse people with a disability experience and we think it is important for people to talk about it so that we can stop this happening.

But it is not ok to do this by using words which hurt and upset people.

Mencap are going to have a meeting with Channel 4.

To find out more about how they decided on the name of the documentary.

And how they included people with a learning disability in what they decided.

We would like to hear what you think about the documentary and how it has made you feel.
