

Harry's Taskmaster Challenge!

This year's Learning Disability Week (14 to 21 June) is themed around art and creativity.

People with a learning disability from all across the UK will be sharing their artwork and creative hobbies, using the hashtag #LDArtWeek.

To help you get involved, Mencap's very own taskmaster Harry Roche has got a crafty task for you:

Create the #LDArtWeek hashtag out of anything you have at home and take a photo of it from above.

You can use absolutely anything - here are some ideas to get you started:

- ★ Pens and pencils
- ★ Colourful scarves
- ★ Your favourite mugs in the kitchen
- ★ Lots of socks
- ★ Sticks or stones in your garden or the park
- ★ Bits and bobs from your favourite hobby

There are 1.5 million people with a learning disability in the UK - so you have 1.5 hours to complete your artwork. Your task begins now!

Don't forget to share your creations on social media using #LDArtWeek - we can't wait to see what you make!
